

Chart to Sponsor Miss Juco Pageant Again

Judges Will Rate Everyday Appearance For Three Weeks

"Because of favorable response to last year's Miss Juco Pageant, The Chart has decided to sponsor the event again on February 21." Karen Anderson, co-editor, said that Kay Pearson and Gay Hopkins will serve as co-chairmen for the best dressed girl on campus project.

All students may nominate their choice of any girl enrolled, except editors of The Chart, by signing nomination slips which will be placed on The Chart distribution stands in the main hall. Each organization may sponsor one girl also, but all entries must be in by Monday, January 20.

Benzamin to Direct Music

In the style review, the nominees will model an off-campus outfit and a formal or cocktail length dress to background music provided by Russell Benzamin and his musicians. Three weeks prior to the pageant judges will evaluate each girl according to the appropriateness of her campus outfit and her general everyday appearance.

The aim of the contest is to show that being well-dressed and well groomed is an integral part of an education that develops the well-rounded individual. It is also to show that these attributes are not a question of money or an extensive wardrobe, but, rather, that they depend on the development of good taste and intelligent interest in one's appearance.

Appropriateness to Be Stressed

Nominees will be judged particularly on appropriateness of dress, an understanding of one's fashion type, well-kept hair, imagination in managing a clothes budget, a workable wardrobe plan, appropriate application of make-up, individuality in use of colors and accessories, impeccable general grooming, good posture, and poise.

The Chart sponsors the Miss Juco Pageant as a stimulus to better grooming. However, the staff will not select the winner. A panel of four prominent students and three faculty members will make the final choice, but their identities will remain secret until after the winner is announced.

The winner of the Miss Juco Pageant will represent the College in "Glamour" magazine's "Ten Best Dressed College Girls of America" contest. She and her attendants will also receive gifts and local publicity in the Crossroads and The Chart Review, the picture edition of the college newspaper.

Cheryl Martin, now attending the University of Arkansas, won the title last year.

Evening Division To Add 11 Courses

Eleven more courses will be offered in the second semester of the Evening Division than in the first semester. A total of 33 regular college courses and 9 technical courses will be presented, according to James Maupin, director.

Registration for the courses will be held Monday night, January 27, in the College cafeteria.

Maupin emphasized that students enrolled during the day and carrying no more than 13 credit hours will not have to pay enrollment costs. Otherwise, tuition is $7 per course hour.

Evelyn Jones To Tell Story Of Abe Lincoln

Mrs. Evelyn Milligan Jones will make her annual visit to Joplin Junior College for an assembly at 11:40, February 12. To commemorate Lincoln's birthday, Mrs. Jones will review Carl Sandburg's book, "Abraham Lincoln: The Prairie Years and the War Years."

The storyteller is author of the book, "Tales About Joplin ... Short and Tall." The book, containing 40 stories about Joplin's beginning as a mining town, has been sent direct from the publisher to 226 different cities in 14 foreign countries, and to 36 states and the District of Columbia in the United States. The three states leading in orders are California, Illinois, and naturally Missouri, which is at the top.

Rehearsals Start For New Musical

Director Milton Brietzke has announced the cast and rehearsal schedule for the musical production "Little Mary Sunshine," a romantic melodrama with a Rocky Mountain background.

This is the first year for the Richard Besoyan play to be produced by amateurs.

The cast who will perform in the Colorado Inn, owned and operated by Little Mary Sunshine, follows: Chief Brown Bear, John Koeneman; Captain Billy Jester, Steve Garrison; Captain Big Jim Warrington, Gary Roney; Little Mary Sunshine (Mary Potts), Donna Doerge; Mme. Ernestine Von Liebedick, Kathy Keithly; Nancy Twinkle, Pam Plummer; Fleet Foot, Richard Showalter; Yellow Feather, Mark Terry; Gen. Oscar Fairfax, David Charon; Young Ladies: Ann Francisco, Deatra Webb, Paula Wiland, Judy Rainwater, Penny Craig, Marcia McCullough. Forest Rangers: Nick Noble, Nelson Clark, Bill Vance, Richard Moss, Charles Moore, and Tom Higdon.

Production heads include: Sue Fingerle, assistant stage director; Kay Cyrus and Karen Church, publicity and promotion; Karen Church, costume designer; Steven Garrison, scene designer; Phoebe Pigg and Pam Plummer, choreographic directors.

"Little Mary Sunshine" will run for six nights, March 16-21.

Second Semester Nears

First semester ends January 20 and the second semester commences at 8 o'clock January 29. Several activities will take place during the interval: counseling tests for new students on January 24; sophomore registration on January 27; and freshman registration on January 28.

According to Dr. Otis Robinson, second semester will be much the same as it has been the past few years, except that more sections of various classes will be offered.

Many subjects that have been offered during second semester every other year will now be offered every year because of a larger faculty.

Joplin Symphony To Give Concert On January 28

The Joplin Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of William Lebedeff, will present a concert at 8 o'clock Tuesday night, January 28, in the College auditorium. It will be the second appearance this season for the orchestra.

The director said that the orchestra will perform "Academic Festival Overture" by Brahms; "Scenes Tittoresque: I. Angelus and II. Fete Boheme" by Massenet; the first movement of "Symphony No. 2" by Beethoven; "Premiere Rhapsody for Clarinet and Orchestra" by Debussy; Intermezzo I and II from "Jewels of the Madonna" by Wolf-Ferari; and selections from "Sounds of Music" by Rodgers.

Robert Schott, woodwind instructor at Pittsburg, will be the featured soloist in the "Premiere Rhapsody."

Alumni Notes

Ron Martin, 1956-57 Chart editor, became assistant city editor of the Detroit Free Press last fall.

Joe Sullens, publisher of the Lawrence County Record and Chieftain, was elected president of the Mount Vernon Chamber of Commerce recently.

Ralph Jacobs, 1958-59, is working toward his doctorate in art education at University City, Pennsylvania, where he also teaches.

Jerry Hamilton, 1958-59, was home for Christmas vacation after three years of teaching English and speech in Bolivia.

Ron Camp is now enrolled in law school at the University of Missouri.

Four former students — Gary Smith, Raymond Vann, Bill Richardson and David Baker — are doing practice teaching in math in Joplin, Webb City, and Carthage High Schools.

Steve Sandy, 1962, was initiated into the national honorary mathematics fraternity at Alabama University.

Barbara O'Hara teaches in an elementary school in St. Louis County.

Among the former students engaged are Mary Ruth Hosp to Richard E. Carter, Jr.; Marilyn Hansen to Charles M. Vorhees; Judith Ann Holden to Denny Guyman Hook; Treva Gilstrap to James Spenser Dawson; Sally Livingston to William Glen Forrest; and Donna Jeanne Hinkle to Richard Dean Thompson.

Among former students who married recently are Clair B. Goodwin, Jr., to Cynthia Ann Harrison; Marianne Stone to Christopher Cornish King; Gayle Prigg to Philip O'Hare; and Alice Myers to Charles Robert Irvin.

The Charlotte Observer has promoted Marion Ellis, 1958 Chart editor, to chief of its Columbia bureau in South Carolina. Along with his other duties, he covers the legislature, state offices, and the Governor's office.

Dale Allen now works on the copy desk for The Observer.

Jerry Cooper, 1957 Associate Chart editor, was recently elected treasurer of Kansas City Industrial Editors.

Jim and Ralph Morgan Perry have moved to Table Rock where he serves as Area Community Development Agent for Taney, Stone, and Barry counties.

Jan Austin Williams, 1960 Chart editor, is completing work for a master's degree in Spanish at the University of Arkansas where she has taught some courses the past two years. Her husband Maurice, who has also taught there, is completing work on an advanced degree in geology.

CCUN Delegates Begin Study for St. Louis Session

Lloyd Buehner III, Karen Faust, Robert Howard, Patricia Smith, Sallie Ann Haynes Millie Blankenship, Barbara Stone, Pat Taylor

The 1963-64 delegates to the College Council of the United Nations have begun research on Cuba so that they can represent that country at the Midwest Model United Nations meeting in St. Louis.

Delegates are Millie Blankenship, Lloyd R. Buehner III, Sallie Ann Haynes, Barbara Stone, and Pat Taylor. Alternates are Karen Faust, Robert Howard, and Patricia Smith. Head delegate is Barbara Stone.

To be chosen as a delegate, students had to have teachers fill out questionnaires on their character and personality. The questionnaires contained questions relative to a student's emotional stability, initiative, leadership, and reliability.

The representatives will leave for St. Louis on March 18 and return March 21. Until that time, they will hold weekly meetings here to discuss their Cuban policy.

Parking Problems

Finding a parking place near Juco isn't easy. Any space within three blocks, that isn't someone's driveway or voided by a yellow line, is usually filled by 8 o'clock. Often students who have eight o'clock classes find it necessary to come early in order to have time to find a place to park, and to make it to class on time.

Space hunting is frustrating but becomes unbearable when we realize that if other students would be considerate and pull up closer to the car in front of them, we could park in the wasted space.

Even though only a huge new student parking lot would solve the problem, a little consideration from everyone could lessen it. When we park, let's think of others and ask: "Am I a parking hog?" — S.D.

Littering Reflects Carelessness

With a sense of surprise, we have been noticing the careless attitude with which some students regard the appearance of the halls, stairs, cafeteria, and library.

There is, we think, only one possible explanation: we have not been thinking. Making messes in the cafeteria such as some grade school children make while eating does not demonstrate that we are taking advantage of the freedom we expect to enjoy in college.

It furthermore reflects a lack of respect for the cooks and kitchen help. Obviously this editorial is not directed to a great number because only a few need to readjust their thinking.

Throwing gum wrappers and cigarette butts on the stairways reflects an attitude of carelessness. Leaving shredded math papers, discarded quizzes, and mutilated newspapers in the library, on tables, and the floor is certainly not having respect for custodians who already have more than enough to do.

Those of us taking a full credit load spend from 25 to 35 hours a week at the college. Many spend even more than that. Our own sense of pride in the appearance of our home and personal possessions applies just as reasonably to the appearance of our college. This is our "home" for a great many hours each week. As mature adults, let us keep our "home" looking as if we had genuine interest and pride in its appearance. — R.L.H.

On Resolutions

By Richard Hood

By now you've probably seen, as I, The price of good resolve is high. Another fact you may have seen: After New Year's we're still mean. We promise ourselves with bated breath To keep our new resolves till death. Within a day, at most a week, Our goodness seems to reach its peak. Within a fortnight it is plain, We have the same old faults again.

College Clubs Give Gifts at Christmas To Underprivileged

The Circle K and Beta Beta Beta clubs gave a Christmas party, December 18, in the Little Theatre for a family of underprivileged children, as their main projects of the year. The children received new clothes and many new toys. Members of Circle K also brought their own gifts. Refreshments were served.

Something Fisby Here . . .

Being the inquisitive feline that he is, "Tom" just can't learn enough about ichthyology. It could be that he is merely hungry but, whatever the case may be, "Tom," and Gary Roney's cat, have learned that an aquarium, with clear water and a brilliant array of tropical fishes, is not the setting for a cat. The acquisition of tropical fish, however, is Gary's hobby and that of several other Juco students.

Those not familiar with tropical fish should view an aquarium to acquire the enjoyment offered there. Escape from everyday life and exploration in an exotic world of crystal-clear water prevail as one watches a ballet of fishes change shape and color as they gracefully swim among the tropical plants. There is the dignified sway of the Angel Fish, the hurry-scurry of the scavenging tropical catfish, and the dart and swivel of the Neon Tetra and Guppies. Each fish has its own distinctive movement.

Kenneth Brown suggests that the hobby provides relaxation. And David Sprouse says: "Watching the fish swim and live all in a world of their own — bearing young, rearing the newly-hatched fry — has a soothing effect on a person."

Many Come From Tropics

The various fish come from the tropical zones of the world. The Neon Tetra from the Amazon is one of the most beautiful fish ever introduced into the aquarium. There is nothing more striking than a school of three or four Neon Tetras, with the almost electric blue lines down their sides and the bright red patches on the lower back portion of the inch and a half fishes. James Van Hooser and Kenneth Brown who have Neon Tetras agree that they surely add color to the aquarium.

Undoubtedly one of the most popular display fishes in the world is the Angel Fish from the Amazon and Guiana. It will reach a size of about five or six inches, but the majority of the specimens are considerably smaller. Kenneth has seven black Angel Fish from which he hopes to get a mated pair. If so, this pair will be worth about one hundred dollars, he says.

When asked if he had any unusual fish in his aquarium, James replied: "Nothing too smashing—I have been thinking of getting an invisible fish." (How would he keep track of such an aquatic vertebrate?)

Kenneth has four very unusual fish—two pairs of Siamese Fighting Fish which are found in the wild state in Siam, Cochinchina and the Malay Peninsula. Hardly ever seen in the wild state, this fish has been bred for color and size of fins so successfully that we can now find it in blue, crimson, green, indigo, or black. Its lacy fins appeal to the aquarist.

People of Siam have for a long time bred this beautiful fish as a fighting fish but have not concentrated on the hindrance of the draping fins in a battle. The fish is so pugnacious that two males can never be kept together, although one is perfectly peaceful in a tank with other fish.

Aquarium Should Be Beautiful

Whatever variety the fish, the landscape of the aquarium should likewise be a thing of beauty. James's aquarium has silver gravel mixed with sand, ocean pebbles, and limestone cliffs in the background. To add additional color, he has arranged various types of plants and short grasses. Kenneth and David have made use of castles. Kenneth has also used petrified wood. Gary uses petrified wood in his aquarium to create what he calls the "jungle" aspect, with brown gravel, green foliage, and an earthenware jungle hut.

David recommends the acquisition of tropical fish as a hobby. "A beginner should buy a rather small tank to begin with of perhaps two to three gallon capacity and a few of the hardier fish until he gets the hang of how and what to do. A small handbook for beginners is really the best advice I can give."

Kenneth says: "The beginner should buy the equipment which is within his price range. He should keep fish for several years to decide if he enjoys the hobby;

Graduate Talks To Scientists

Harold Zabsky, Juco graduate, gave a lecture on "Symmetry Models of Space Groups" at the 130th annual meeting of the American Association of Science held the last week of December in Cleveland, Ohio.

He explained a self-teaching device that he, Dr. Albert J. Frank, and the late Dr. Lyman J. Wood, both of St. Louis University, have devised.

The device consists of a book, "Construction and Description of Symmetry Models of the Principal Space Groups," and a number of demonstrational slides. The slides are similar to the 3-D movies in that the picture is two dimensional but, when viewed through special glasses, it appears to be three dimensional.

Zabsky teaches at Fontbonne College.

New Year's Resolutions

Janet Manard — "Not to cut class any more."

John Gilbert — "I'm only going to ride my motorcycle when it has its tail on the back. Every monster has to have a tail, you know."

Carol Winn — "Not to get involved in other people's business."

Matt Gulick — "To have more time for enjoyment."

Judy Sorg — "To take time putting my model cars together, so they don't look like junk."

Pegi Duggan — "To campaign for egg plant to be served in the cafeteria."

Roy Freeman — "To lose weight."

Patti Smith — "Promise not to call the Joplin kids Yankees any more."

Gerald McCormick — "To do better in school."

Susan McDowell — "I'm going to start taking flying lessons."

Allen Talbutt — "I will tell my mama that I know there is no Santa Claus, 'cause I'm tired of getting Teddy Bears every Christmas."

Janet Walker — "Not to have a first hour class next semester."

and, if he does, he will probably buy more equipment."

James feels that the novice aquarist should pursue the hobby only if he is interested in it. "However, even a casual observer may find himself so involved as to feel an integral part of the fish watching world."

Tropical fish can be profitable as well as enjoyable. David explains: "I paid three dollars for a pair of fish and they reproduced 24 babies. Of course, all didn't live but of those that did I can sell for the same price. Even if I sold only two, I would have my investment back." James is prone to believe that it is a profitable hobby only to the people he buys fish from!

Nevertheless, any tropical fish enthusiast is very likely to agree with James that "It is profitable in enjoyment."

NASA Official Lectures Here About Rocketry

Bart J. Slattery, Jr., director of Public Affairs for National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Alabama, spoke during a special assembly January 10 and at the Engineers' Club banquet that night.

Slattery discussed the Saturn Project at both times. He was introduced at the assembly by Harry Harrenan, director of public relations for the Rocketdyne Division of the North American Aviation Company. At the evening lecture held in the College auditorium he was introduced by Joplin College President Roi S. Wood.

Platform guests at the lecture were Harold Rabe, president Southwest Missouri Chapter of Professional Engineers; L. C. Brisbin, president Southeast Chapter of Kansas Engineering Society; Thomas L. Bair, president American Society of Quality Engineers; Wendell Ferguson, president American Chemical Society; Edward Hare, president American Institute of Mining Engineers; Dick Shank, president American Society of Aeronautics and Astronautics; Charles Walls, president American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers.

Area high schools as well as local scientific and civic groups were represented at the banquet and lecture. Former engineer alumni also attended. A reception in the Little Theater followed the lecture.

Minneapolis Symphony to Give Concert February 11

The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Stanislaw Skrowaczewski, will present a Community Concert at 8 o'clock, Tuesday night, February 11, in the Senior High School auditorium. All Junior College students may hear this major orchestra by the presentation of their student activity tickets.

Formed in 1903 and touring since 1906, the "Orchestra on Wheels" gives approximately 70 concerts in more than 50 towns and cities in one season. Sponsored by the United States Department, the orchestra made a 34,000 mile tour in the Middle East in the summer of 1957 to promote international good will.

Housed on the campus of the University of Minnesota, the symphony uses the University's 300 voice choir at many of their performances. The orchestra also has the honor of playing for an average audience of 4600, the largest average concert audience.

Skrowaczewski, who has directed the Minneapolis Symphony since 1960, made his debut in the United States with the Cleveland Orchestra in 1958, at the invitation of George Szell. Skrowaczewski was formerly with the National Philharmonic of Poland.

The director who first learned English by listening secretly to the BBC Broadcast during the war has composed four symphonies, four string quartets, an opera, a ballet, several vocal works, and music for stage and screen.

The eighth major orchestra to be formed in the United States, the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra has had well-known directors: Eugene Ormandy, Dimitri Mitropoulos, and Antal Dorati.

Juco Musicians Slate Monthly Recital Feb. 4

The monthly music recital is scheduled for 7:30, Tuesday night, February 4 in the auditorium, according to Russell Benzamin.

William Vance will give two vocal solos, "Der Ewigkeit Saphirnes Haus" and "Ich Will Leiden, Ich Will Schweigen" by Bach. Max Wilson will sing three numbers: "Bist Du Bei Mir" by Bach; a recitative from Elijah, "Ye People Rend Your Hearts"; and an aria, "If With All Your Hearts." Both the aria and the recitative are by Felix Mendelssohn.

Jeanie McGowan, violinist, will play "Spanish Dance" by Granados-Kreisler. Carole Smart, pianist, will play "Prelude and Fugue" in C minor by Bach. Carol Rowland will sing "The Little Road to Bethlehem" by Head and "I've Been Roaming" by Horn.

Kathy Keithly will present two vocal selections: "Music I Hear With You" by Hageman, and "American Lullaby" by Gladys Rich. Jean Jensen will accompany Kathy, Carol, and Jeanie.

Artists Guild to Show Another Foreign Film

The Ozark Artists Guild will present "Miracle in Milan" at 8:15, Monday night, January 27, at the Spiva Art Center. A witty, warmhearted fantasy about the brotherhood of man, the foreign film received the New York Film Critics Award for the Best Foreign Film in 1952. The film carries English subtitles for the Italian dialogue.

Cadets Best Lions

Stuart Droms, a 6-3 center, looped 28 points to lead the Oklahoma Military Academy Cadets past the Joplin Junior College Lions, December 17, at Claremore, Oklahoma. The defeat handed the Lions a record of 2-6 for season play. Don Kellhofer led the Lions in scoring with 16 tallies, while Sammy Knight added 15 for the losers. The Lions fought hard but couldn't seem to find the range.

Totals: Joplin — Kellhofer 16; Knight 15; Cortez 10; Shore 10; Berner 8; Denney 7; Jobe 4; Long 4; Baird 3.

OMA — Droms 28; Giles 19; Hewitt 13; Doutaz 7; Donnelly 6; McDaniel 5; Chin 4; Dunlap 4; Johnson 4; Kidd 4; Limbaugh 4; Carroll 2; Moutray 1.

Kansas City Wins Conference Tilt Here By Narrow Margin

In a thrilling Interstate Conference tilt, the Kansas City Blue Devils survived a last minute rally by the Joplin Lions in a close 80-78 decision January 3, on the hardwoods of Memorial Hall.

The Kansans were led by sophomore guard Guy King who topped all scorers with 23 points. Sam Knight led the Joplin attack with 20 tallies followed by Bruce Cortez with 15 points.

Joplin now supports a 2-2 conference record and is 3-8 for the season.

Totals — Joplin: Knight, 20; Cortez, 15; Kellhofer, 14; Denney, 13; Berner, 11; Jobe, 4; Shore, 1.

Kansas City: King, 23; Swazick, 20; Tucker, 18; Norman, 8; Douglas, 6; Story, 3; Folscroft, 2.

Pirates Ward Off Lions' Attack, 82-66

Doug Landrith's Lions, plagued with foul problems, were overcome by an aggressive Hutchinson Junior College offense 82-66, December 28, at Hutchinson. Three key Lions — Sam Knight, Larry Berner, and Ron Baird — fouled out during the second half of play.

The Lions held the pirates on even terms in the first half and trailed only by one point 45-44 at intermission.

The Pirates sailed away with the game during the opening minutes of the second half.

Dick Myers was high point man for Hutchinson with 21 tallies. Bill Denney led the Lions with 18.

Totals — Joplin: Denney, 18; Kellhofer, 14; Baird, 10; Knight, 9; Cortez, 6; Berner, 4; Crawford, 2; Ingram, 2; Long, 1.

Hutchinson: Myers, 21; Davidson, 14; Tucker, 14; Frany, 10; Marshall, 6; Benson, 5; Martin, 3; Glue, 3; Butler, 2; Elmore, 2; George, 2.

Joplin to Battle Ft. Scott Tonight

Joplin Lions venture to Fort Scott, Kansas, to battle the Greyhounds in a nonconference tilt tonight.

Fort Scott will try to close the wounds that the Lions opened in last year's 59-45 Interstate Conference championship setback. The Hounds later dropped from the conference.

Guard Sam Knight will take better than a 20-point game average into the contest. Big Bill Denney and Don Kellhofer will host an 18-point average, and Larry Berner will try to increase his 15-point game average. Coach Doug Landrith will take advantage of the noted rebounding talents of freshman Bruce Cortez in tonight's contest.

The local cagers will have to support a four-quarter instead of their present first-half attack to thwart the impressive Greyhounds. Joplin has suffered a few disappointing losses this season—the majority being one-shot decisions.

Highland Tramples Joplin in ICA Tilt

Doug Landrith's Lions dropped a close conference tilt to Highland, Kansas, Scotties, 68-67, December 12, at Highland.

The Lions battled Highland all the way, with the score changing hands throughout the entire game. Joplin captured an early lead but the Scotties fought back to narrow the margin to 39-38 at intermission.

Highland retaliated after the mid-break with 10 fielders, but the fire fighting Lions thrashed back to take a 59-58 advantage. The Scotties dumped water on the fired-up Lions and took the road home to victory as big John Lucas opened the gates for Highland with two free shots and helped control the ball the rest of the game. Joplin stole the ball twice, but to no avail.

Highland's Harold Jetter was high point man of the game with 23 points and teammate John Lucas netted 15.

Bruce Cortez collected 16 points, Bill Denny meshed 13, and Don Kellhofer basketed 12 for Joplin.

Cam Twisters to Hold Annual Car Show In Joplin Feb. 1-2

Have you ever seen a car worth ten thousand dollars? Chances are you haven't, but you can see one worth that amount and many other custom cars when the Cam Twisters hold their sixth annual car show February 1 and 2 in the Dan Stanley car showroom.

The feature attraction of the show will be Kandy-Kart, a '58 Chev, with all the extras that you wish your car had. The regal customized car owned by Pat Mulligan has been displayed in most of the major car shows in the United States.

The Carorama will feature more than 35 customized cars and dragsters. The Cam Twisters Rod and Custom Club, Inc., will also show their dragster which won second place in a recent Springfield car show.

Thirty trophies will be given to winners in different classes. The entry fee is $4. Anyone wanting further information may call Dave Johnson, MA 4-5988.

The show will open at 6 p.m. and continue until midnight on Saturday. The doors will open at 10 o'clock Sunday morning and close at 6 that night.

Admission will be 75¢ for advance tickets, $1 at the door. Children will be admitted free if they are accompanied by an adult.

Lions Bombard Bombers, 105-64

Joplin Junior College Lions rolled to an easy 105-64 victory in an Interstate Conference game over the Fairbury, Nebraska, Bombers, December 11, at Fairbury.

The Lions, under the coaching of Doug Landrith, had three players with 20 or more points: Bob Shore and Sam Knight led the Lions with 22 points each and Bill Denney netted 20.

The Bombers were paced by the hard driving of Russ Kmutzeu who collected 24 points.

Fairbury led at the half way mark 37-35 but was unable to hold down the Lions fast break through in the second half when Joplin netted 70 points and the Bombers were limited to 27 points.

Lions Wallop Cadets, 110-77

Joplin Junior College Lions walloped the Wentworth Military Cadets, 110-77, in a conference game, December 19, on the hardwoods of Memorial Hall.

The Lions never trailed throughout the contest. At one period during the game, they held a 15-point bulge but Wentworth, aided by forwards Stan Kueker and Frank Tully, narrowed the lead to 49-44 at intermission.

The second half saw defensive skill of the Lions. Freshman Bruce Cortez played an exceptional rebounding game. Guard Sam Knight put the Lions 100-point on the score boards with two charities in the final quarter. The entire squad finished the game.

Lion sophomore forward Larry Berner meshed across 26 points for game scoring honors. Don Kellhofer collected 22 points, Bill Denney hit 21, Knight was good for 17, and Cortez contributed 12 points.

Kueker basketed 25 points and Tully contributed 18 for the losers.
